JOSEPH N. BARRETT

Joseph N. Barrett of North Paris died Wednesday morning, June 4, 1980 at the Ledgeview Nursing Home, West Paris, where he had been cared for the past two years. He was born in the Gilbertville section of Canton, March 27, 1897, the son of George and Brigid Barrett. He attended Canton schools and served with the U. S. Army during World War I. He married Evelyn Coffin on Dec. 6, 1927. Mr. Barrett had worked for the Grand Trunk Railroad as a section hand with the Bryant Pond crew in his earlier years, later working in a feldspar mill in West Paris until his retirement in 1947. Following his retirement, he operated his own painting and wall-papering business. Mr. Barrett, in conjunction with Harold Perham, put in a great deal of research and time in 1946 in negotiating the purchase of the North Paris Community Hall from the Federated Church organization. He was made a life member of the Community Hall Association for his effort. He was twice past commander of the Jackson-Silver American Legion Post of Locke Mills and was a charter member of the Ring-McKeen Post of West Paris. He was a member of the West Paris IOOF and a former member of Onward Rebekah Lodge.

He is survived by his widow of North Paris. Their only son, Stanley, died in 1939.

Graveside military services will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at Wayside Cemetery, West Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. David Salway attended the party Sunday afternoon honoring Mrs. Meg Cousins on reaching the half century mark. "Triumph is just a little 'ump' added to 'tri'."

SMALL VOTER TURNOUT AT BETHEL TUESDAY

In the State Election on Tuesday, Bethel voters favored the bond issue of $9,000,000 for improvement at state vocational-technical institutes and Maine Maritime Academy by a 179-120 margin. Partial returns indicate that the question was also favored statewide.

In the only contests on the Primary Election Ballot, Bethel Republicans favored Whiting, 126, over Challenger.

er challenger Wilkinson, 21, for the Judge of Probate nomination; while for Sheriff, local Democrats favored the nomination of Howe, 54, over Bartlett, 53. County totals reflect the same results.

OLD FASHIONED 4th OF JULY CELEBRATION PLANNED

An evening picnic is planned to celebrate the 4th of July this year on the Common in a style reminiscent of Independence Day celebrations of years ago.

Various members of the Bethel Historical Society are working on the details of this year's event but everyone is welcome to join in the festivities.

A central feature of the picnic will be a sing-a-long of some old favorite songs such as "Down by the Old Mill Stream" and others. Hopes are to be able to field a Barber Shop Quartet or even two.

The organizers do not plan to introduce any "imported talent" and urge the public to participate. Girls who would like to prepare picnic baskets or cakes for auction to their favorite boy friends are welcome to do so and activities of a similar nature are welcome.

SPECIAL CELEBRATION TO HONOR MIDDLE SCHOOL EIGHTH GRADERS

A special celebration is happening this Sunday, June 15, at 6 p. m., at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel, for the eighth grade students at Telstar Middle School and their families. Since there is no formal graduation at T.M.S. this will serve as an alternative means of recognizing the students' moving from Middle School to High School. Certificates will be presented in an informal ceremony around 7 p. m. after the pot luck supper which starts at 6 p. m. Please bring beverages for your own family group and enough food (a casserole or salad and/or a dessert) to share with others.

Weather permitting, there will be a softball game, students vs. families, so dress accordingly. Teachers are invited, too. Cheering sections will be a must! Bring lawn chairs and/or blankets. See you on the 15th at 6 p. m.

Rev. Caton Resigns Pastorate at West Parish Church

Rev. Thomas L. Caton has tendered his resignation to be effective Aug. 15, 1980 so that he may answer a call to serve as pastor of the First Congregational Church in Pocatello, Idaho. Rev. Caton came to the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel in 1970 succeeding Rev. Clifford Laws.

Parishioners of the West Parish Congregational Church are urged to attend regular Sunday services on Father's Day June 15 for the purpose of deciding on a summer schedule of church services and to initiate the process of seeking a new pastor.

The summer services which the congregation will be asked to decide on or suggest alternatives will be for the months of July and August. It is proposed that combined services be held at the Methodist Church in July with Rev. Caton serving as the pastor and that combined services be held in the Congregational Church during the month of August with Rev. Millett Cummings as pastor.

Chairpersons of the various church committees will also be urged to give more specific attention to how their various committees will function in the coming months during the transition period from Rev. Caton's oversight of the pastorate to that of an as yet unchosen pastor.

Route 26. The Livermore Falls firm submitted a bid of $128,830 for the project.

Plans call for the installation of a structural plate pipe arch and construction of a 22-foot traveled way with five-foot paved shoulders.

During construction, traffic will be maintained on the existing bridge, after which that span will be closed to vehicular traffic, but will be maintained by the town for bicycle and pedestrian traffic.

A group known as HALT (Help Alleviate Local Taxes) is organizing a drive to try to repeal Maine's Tree Growth Tax Law. Petitions are now out and were available at the polls on Primary Election Day, June 10. Since a small turnout of voters was expected at the Primary Election, it is advised that the petitions be held for the September and November elections. The Tree Growth Tax Law, which took effect in 1973, places a much lower valuation on woodlands which come under tree growth, placing an additional burden on other taxpayers. The Legislature has refused to face up to this problem, so the drive to repeal has been started by HALT. If successful, it will take effect Jan. 1, 1982.

Several members were elected as State officers: Hilda Donahue, State Chairman; Mary Bishop, Banner Bearer; Doris Cornell, Hospital and Community Service; Myra Stevens, Publicity; and Leona Curtis, Legislative chairman and assistant pianist. Also two citations were earned. The VAVS and 100% membership. Others attending were Maude Danforth, Frances Bennett, Selma Chapman, Jane Van and Adeline Dexter. Also two Barracks members, Albert Skillings and Roy Cummings.

There were 13 Auxiliary members and three Barracks members attending the funeral services for Paul Head at the West Bethel Church.

Clarice Gibson, Corres.

A chilly week end with rains almost all day Sunday. I don't know how many entered the canoe race up to Shelburne, N. H.; but unless some came down a lot later than the first one, we didn't see too many go by here. Our son, James, rode down on his motorcycle from Old Town Saturday and spent the night. He left around 7:30 a. m. for Tewksbury, Mass., and was going around the mountain route. When he called, after he got there, he said that he only got as far as Glen, N. H., when it started raining.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to express, through your column, sincere thanks and appreciation on behalf of the physical education students and staff to two fine community groups. First to Headmaster Donald Fudge and Gould Academy for the use of their field house and track facilities and secondly to Dick Raser and the Bethel Inn for the use of the golf course.

Sharing of these recreational facilities has made possible the teaching of lifetime sports activities such as tennis, handball, and golf. The students and instructors want to let this community know how much your generosity has benefited our program.

Sincerely,
Dan Hannon
T.H.S.

To the Editor:

Too often a small town finds it difficult to motivate itself in accomplishing civic duties. Everyone is involved with their own work, their own problems, their own hopes and dreams. It is much easier to let the other person think about the forest, while most of us worry about our own trees.

Bethel is more fortunate than other small towns. It has a beautiful common and beautiful scenery. It has many fine businesses and a National Historical District. Bethel has a strong sense of its past and a pride in itself that transcends individual differences. And for the past few years Bethel has been fortunate to count among its citizens a man who has given it his all.

We owe Don Bennett a debt of gratitude. He has taken upon himself the task of putting Bethel on the map, and he is succeeding. Don has unstintingly given of his time to make Bethel a more civic-minded community.

He has been a prime motivating force in Bethel, innovating several new community projects such as the Christmas celebrations, Patriots Day, and art exhibits.

It has at times been a thankless task, but Don's work has not gone unnoticed, and it is appreciated more than he knows.

I know the majority of the people of Bethel join me in saying thank you to Don Bennett, and please, please, keep up the good work.

FROM THE TOWN OFFICE

plication from Joan and Claus Wiese d/b/a the Norseman Inn was reviewed and the Selectmen voted to recommend its approval to the Bureau of Alcoholic Beverages.

In other action, the Selectmen denied the request of the Bethel Water District for an advance payment of third quarter hydrant rental charges to the Town. The Board's decision was based on the fact that the Town invests all funds not planned for expenditures each month and such a payment at this time would not allow the town to meet its current financial commitments without withdrawing invested funds with a substantial loss of interest income.

The Manager reviewed the May financial statement with the Board and indicated that all expenditure accounts are in good shape other than fuel oil and the dog control accounts. The Manager also indicated that excise tax income was $4,000 less for the period ending May 31, 1980 than for the same period last year.

A request of a Lovers Lane resident for an extension of a sewer line on that street was denied due to the estimated cost of the project and the present financial commitments of the sewer department.

The Manager notified the Board of the County Commissioners semi-annual meeting to discuss county law enforcement to be held in South Paris at 4 p. m. on Tuesday, June 17, and urged Board members to attend.

The next regular meeting of the Selectmen will be Monday evening, June 20. The Assessors will be meeting the next two Monday evenings to work on completing 1980 valuations.

The Community Safety and Law Enforcement Committee met Tuesday evening, June 10. Barbara Brown was elected chairman and Jane Hosterman was elected secretary. Town Manager Norman Ness and Special Police Officer Rick McCann met with the committee to discuss the proposed summer project to develop and implement the Neighborhood Watch Crime Prevention Program. Mr. McCann will be directing the project and will be meeting with organizations and neighborhood groups to explain the program and how every individual can participate.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY LEARNS ABOUT IRISH NEIGHBORHOOD

An event in Bethel's history which had its roots in the Irish potato famine of the 1840's and in New England's railroad boom drew a crowd last Thursday evening which filled the meeting room of the Moses Mason Museum. The program with so much interest was a lecture on the history of the Irish Neighborhood by Margaret Joy Tibbetts.

Although the "Neighborhood" is actually located in the Town of Greenwood, Miss Tibbetts pointed out that, in virtually every aspect of community life, except voting, its inhabitants were oriented toward Bethel village.

Why did this particular area become a place for Irish families to settle in the second half of the 19th century? Tibbetts traced the origins of the Irish migration to America: introduction of potatoes as a food staple for the Irish by the English, the crop failures in the 1840's, resulting inadequate relief measures by the English government under Queen Victoria, leave home or starve alternatives and finally the demand for labor by railroad employers who were at the time developing railroads through the area from Portland to Canada.

But how did former railroad hands become farmers in the last part of the century? Rail company management suddenly dropped the daily wage from $1 a day to only 90 cents. As a result, men who had been marginally content to break their backs laying new rails and ties looked for a better life and local farming as a new more favorable goal. Shortly after the drop in wages, the first land was purchased by an Irish worker in what is now the Irish Neighborhood.

Besides relying on the memories of Bethel's older citizens, including John Harrington, whose grandfather was one of the Neighborhood's original settlers, three important sources of information for Tibbetts' lecture were the census records for 1860 and the Irish Neighborhood cemetery as well as the 1858 atlas. The land where the cemetery is today was purchased by Patrick Harrington and Patrick Connolly for use by all Catholic families in the neighborhood and their descendants. This was at the time one of many real estate transactions but it marked a significant point in Bethel's development and cultural outlook.

Before the evening program began, Society President Catherine Newell presented the Society's Life Membership certificate to Emily C. Saunders.

"OUR UNFAILING SPIRITUAL RESOURCES" TO BE TOPIC OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

Christian spiritual understanding is firmly connected to "God-given prospects for joy and abundance in everyday life" according to forthcoming Christian Science lecturer Barbara Dix Henderson.

Mrs. Henderson's free one-hour lecture entitled "Our Unfailing Spiritual Resources," is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 17, at the Second Congregational Church building, Main Street (Routes 117 and 118), Norway.

A growing concept of a living God opens thought to divine inspiration says Mrs. Henderson, who points out that inspiration—with its accompanying sense of joy—brings one closer to that example given by Jesus Christ.

As we invest in the unfailing oil of joy and inspiration," Mrs. Henderson explains, "generosity and sharing—a more balanced selfless outlook—will result in a more balanced economy and a new structure for society."

She also notes: "Jesus' whole ministry was based on his understanding that he came forth from the Father, that is, from the source of being, which is free, harmonious, and immortal."

In the course of her remarks, Mrs. Henderson cites a number of personal, healing experiences that restored health, brought direction and supply, and overcame grief.

A resident of London, England, Mrs. Henderson is a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship which provides many such public lectures around the world. The lecture will be sponsored in Norway by Christian Science Society, Norway. Child care will be provided for those who could not otherwise attend.

Mrs. Henderson is a life-long Christian Scientist and a practitioner listed in The Christian Science Journal.

She was brought up and educated in England but as a student spent some years in Vienna at Music School and University.

She was a singer and voice teacher and also worked for some years in the field of International Arbitration. After marrying and raising a family she became headmistress of a girls' school in England.

Many of her poems and articles have been published in The Christian Science periodicals.

Albany HUNT'S CORNER

Kathy Bennett, Corres.

It certainly is a cold morning in Albany! Just 32° when we got up at 6 a.m. We have watered all plants—time will tell how much damage there is.

As usual the telephone has been out of order so I have only a little news.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert McAllister were Roger and Pam Hale and Kevin, Elina and Russ Hale, and Mr. and Mrs. Reutshman. Sunday callers were Mr. and Mrs. Rodney McAllister.

Callers at the Barton Farm this week end were Frank Barton, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Roger Barton and children, and Michelle Parsons.

All is well at K-D's Acres. I tried to get some cleaning done last week but the weather wasn't very cooperative. Callers last week were Margaret Barton, Gus, Polly, and Paul McAllister, Hugh and Edith Stearns, Harold and Annie Nutting.

This week end we attended the dance in North Waterford. Deway and Betty Gillan spent the night with us, Saturday. They are from Orr's Island.

Sunday, Dick and I and Russell and Darlene Nutting gave Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nutting a 50th anniversary party here at K-D's Acres.

Plans were for chicken barbecue outside but due to the weather we were forced inside.

Those attending were, Dick and I and the boys, Russell, Darlene and RayAnne Nutting, Scott Nutting, TerriAnn Nutting, Holly Nutting, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Libby and Peter, and Beverly Nichols.

I made them a cake and they received gifts and cards.

Hope the phone will be in operation next week. Until then—have a grand week and pray hard for much warmer weather!

F. BARRIE FREEMAN

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

It was 7:30 and the warm afternoon was nearing its close here at the foot of Noyes Mountain. The sun would drop back of the western mountains in a short time but for a while the valley was full of long light. A bit of breeze was stirring as I stepped out. It was sweet with growing things.

That lengthening twilight spoke of spring.

A robin whickered near the birch tree, where it has had a nest for the third summer.

Then from across the pond came the sound which for two years we have missed. That peculiar character, a hermit, which likes to dwell within a marsh or swamp. Thoreau regarded it as the "genius of the bog".

The American Bittern seems to delight in cattail beds, cedar swamps, and "floating islands" where the first false step by the unwary may plunge the incautious adventurer into foul and slimy waters. Many years this bird has been heard and seen near by our pond and in our meadows; then just vanished. I'm so glad it is back. By day it keeps mostly in hiding and is rarely noticed except by people who are much affixed in its haunts or by those who are looking especially for it.

Its color is inconspicuous and when crouching low or wading it has only to point its bill upward and draw its feathers close to its body to be passed unnoticed, so close it resembles a dead limb or crooked stump root. The sound it makes resembles the loud sucking of an old wooden pump or the driving of stakes. Sometimes I think it has taken the job along the pond to extend the fence posts so the cows can not stray. Often I have seen it at the moment of emitting its love song. The violent contortions simulate those of a nauseated person in the very act of retching. Yet this bird does not regurgitate food but apparently inflates its gullet with air. The throat motion looks like a huge ball moving up and down several times before a sound is heard. No one could call it beautiful but I'm so glad it has returned and I can again listen to its "pump-er-lunk" far into the night.

I had waited long for a calm afternoon in which I could go out in the boat and do some fishing. None came so I went just the same with the waves slapping at my boat.

I watched the leaves and weeds dancing on the water, as I headed up and across the pond. It was hard rowing but I knew that coming back I could drift.

Before I had gone far the sky began to sowl and the rain came charging down the valley on a million pattering feet. The surface of the pond seemed to reach up with tiny fingers to grasp the drops. It was fascinating and I had no intention of returning home.

In a short time the sun came out. I pushed my boat into a cove and fished, while I listened to the natural music around me. The tree tops sighed and sang in the heavy boughs. It was a strange and restful kind of music. As I struggled with a wild fish, bird solos and symphonies were added to the tumbling waves. I think people hear this wild music and absorb it unconsciously. Perhaps from the beginning of time it was planned that way because it is something we humans must have, as a medicine for the soul.

The pond was now a vision of brilliance. It revealed richness of life within the waters.

Red Wing's "o-ca-lee" came from a bush near by, and he was showy in his courtship ritual.

Splash! Another hungry fish; no struggle this time.

Far back on shore I spotted a blue heron, how blue he was, too!

UNITED METHODIST WOMEN HELD MEETING JUNE 5

The United Methodist Women met on Thursday, June 5, at the home of Hulda Stevens for a delicious pot luck lunch at noon. Eighteen members were present. President Muriel Faudi opened the meeting with two poems and the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Plans were made for the Friday Gift Shop which will open June 13.

Anyone having things they would like to donate to the "Yankee Trader" may leave them at the church during the hours of Senior Citizen Meals. She will accept anything except clothing. Needed are children's games, books, toys, etc. Also Frances Saunders could use donations of plastic flowers.

He was pert and alert, as he minced along, very proud. Beyond was a background of soft green standing thick and hardy with whips of white birch among.

I rowed, fished, looked, listened for two hours then drifted toward home, put my boat away and prepared for another evening blurred with the sound of birds, frogs, insects, and the "pump-er-lunk, plum pud'n" of the Bittern.

Those who visited at the Hayes Homestead over the week end: Del and Betty Hayes, Auburn, who had returned from a visit at Hyde Park, N. Y., with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hayes; Verna Libby, Falmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Adam Waterhouse, Gorham; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hayes and children, West Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morris recently spent a few days at Southwest Harbor with Mr. and Mrs. John Howe.

Friends and neighbors presented Eva Felton with a sunshine box on Saturday. It was her birthday too. It was a very pleasant surprise. We wish her daily improvement in health until she is well again. Many happy returns, Eva.

Reggie Leeper and Barbara Alford of North Kingstown, R. I. are spending a week at the Leeper cottage on Hicks Pond.

Donald Bowman, Canton, Mildred Bowman, Hebron, Lucy Bragg, West Sumner, were week end callers at Frank and Dot Curtis.

Helen Chojnacki enters Maine Medical Hospital in Portland today for tests.

Lucy Bragg called on Fay and Ann Holt Saturday evening.

Upton

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

Bible classes under the leadership of Evelyn Larson will begin June 19, 9:30 a. m. at "Grammie's", my former residence across from the Grange Hall in Upton. Expenses will be divided among those present via voluntary collection.

We have seen a yearling deer a few times in the village. It appears to be walking on stilts.

The Godefrids have their home jacked up and are having a basement and cement foundation installed.

Fred gave Marian a surprise birthday party Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Robert York, the Teetleys, Margaret Mitchell and Nancy Blais, were guests and whist players. She received two cakes and several gifts.

Monday, June 9, brought snow flurries in Enrol and Berlin, snow cover in Rangely and ice in a dish of water as the overnight temperature was as low as 28°. Some plants suffer with chilled leaves.

Three people traveled through town dressed in unusual garb of flowing robes and turbans. Their bare feet and unfamiliar gestures and manner made people a bit wary. They lodged in the church overnight.

Thursday last week a few brief showers dampened outdoor work but by late afternoon the sky was clear except for high, mostly light clouds. A very clear rainbow was visible in the eastern sky. Not only was the entire arc clearly visible but each color was vivid and distinct, and a second bow was partially visible.

Three ladies from Upton attended a church in Bethel and accepted an invitation to receive Christ for salvation.

Mrs. Clifford O. Cole, Cor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Laughy were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cole. A coyote was seen in back of Clifford Cole's this morning.

There were 17 people turned out to the town meeting Saturday night. They voted to do repair work on the town building. They also voted to send the money to the ambulance service they ask for.

Midnight Visitors Cause

Local Disruption

Several times this past week the residents of Gilead had several visitors. Instead of coming in the day time when people could see them they waited until late at night to make the rounds. These appearances caused many dogs to bark loud and long until the guests disappeared.

The first of these events happened just a week ago. They walked through Mary Cole's garden and crossed through the woods on the hill and down to Dan Cole's garden at the river.

Then they walked up the road, making the dogs bark, to go down into the frog pond across the road from Clifford Cole's.

The next time the visitors came they walked through Clifford Cole's garden, crossed the road into Emeline Heath's garden and then turned off the path to go down to the frog pond. After exploring around, Mary Tyler found when one had traveled up from Wild River. Upon finding tracks of our visitors in different places we have come to the conclusion that our unusual visitors are a family of moose; a bull, a cow, and her calf.

Farmers and gardeners are glad to see the rain after several days of hot sun and wind.

Luella Cole has returned to work after a couple months at home. Mrs. Edith Quimby is well at the nursing home.

It has come to our attention that one of our senior citizens has a birthday June 15. Eva Swan will be 84 years old on that date. She raised ten children, six of whom she bore. The rest are "just hers" by virtue of love and caring. Eva lives with her son Hugh, and is still active. She enjoys gardening and right now is convalescing after cutting her fingers on a bench saw. She still walks out every day with the weather permits and enjoys people and just plain "living." So, happy birthday, Eva, and many more of them.

The Locke Mills Youth Group completed a 17 mile Bike-a-Thon for Cystic Fibrosis on Saturday. Congratulations, all.

The next summer they spent tenting in the birch field near Twitchell Pond and camping at Whitman's camp, now Stan Seames home. Later they purchased Ralph Abbott's camp and named it Cliff View. On Sept. 9, 1973 they had open house in honor of their golden wedding anniversary with 85 friends present. They sold their camp soon after to William Daltzell from Massachusetts, and had a new home built in Stuart, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Prall owned a home and sporting goods store in New Jersey before retirement.

The Greenwood Historical Society met Wednesday evening, June 4, at the Town Hall with about 24 members attending. Several items of business were discussed among them being several ways to raise money. It was decided to take out a table at four flea markets this summer. Anyone wishing to donate items for this table at these flea markets can contact E. Lee Mills, Mrs. Gilbert or almost any member. All items will be appreciated. There will be boxes of stationery featuring sketches by local artist, Joyce Hathaway, available, proceeds from which will go to the Society. The Society then heard recommendations from the building committee and a building was selected to purchase, if details can be worked out. Following the business meeting members tried to match names with baby pictures of themselves. My, have most of us changed! Some slides of Greenwood were also shown while members enjoyed refreshments furnished by Mary Mills. The next meeting will be July 2 at 7:30 p. m. at the Town Hall.

The Chamber of Commerce helped in the administration of the canoe races on Sunday.
